I HAVE LEARNED . . .

As you read "Evaluating China's One-Child Policy," complete the following statements telling the most important information you learn. Write the page number where you find the information.

BY MYSELF:

- ◆ I have learned that _____
- that _____
- that _____
- that _____
- and that _____

WITH OTHERS: Next, talk with 4 different people in class. From each person, find out one thing that person learned that is DIFFERENT from anything else you have written on this page. In YOUR handwriting, write down that person's name and one thing he or she learned. (Make sure it is different from anything else on this page.)

Decision Time

BY MYSELF:

Look over the 9 things you have written about China's one-child-policy, and then complete these statements.

◆ I have learned a lot about China's one-child-policy. But I still wonder

◆ Of the 9 "what I learned" statements on the front of this paper, which do you think are the five most important? Mark the five with stars. ★

WITH OTHERS:

◆ Compare YOUR five most important statements to the ones chosen by other members of your group. Then, AS A GROUP, choose 5 statements from the entire group as the (drum roll, please...) FIVE MOST IMPORTANT STATEMENTS of information from the article.
